Hunting the Supper.

In this game the table is set and the guests are asked to sit down to it, though not a sign of anything to eat is visible. Then the hostess places the end of a cord in the hand of each guest, who is told to go and hunt for his supper. The cord is wound up until the other end is reached, when a dish of something edible is revealed. It may be fruit, sandwiches, cake, candy or what not.

All the dishes are brought to the table, when the supper begins. The winding and unwinding of the twisted cord make lots of fun.

In Holland—but always on Dec. 6 instead of the 25th—the little boys and girls put their wooden shoes in front of the hearth instead of hanging up their stockings, and the good old patron of children comes and fills them, and there is general gift giving.

Umbrella on Horseback.

The late Duc de Sagan set many a fashion among French dandies, and among others that of wearing a single eyeglass with a very wide black ribbon—a practice followed for many years by Parisians who wished to look smart. In one respect, however, his most faithful admirers refused to follow the duke. This was when he took to carrying an umbrella on horseback. He first indulged in this eccentricity at a race meeting. When a shower came down and the leader of fashion was seen to be holding an umbrella over himself and his horse the sensation was immense. No one ventured to imitate him, however, and finally he abandoned the practice.—Exchange.

Yule Log and Joyous Revel.

The still observed custom of Merrie England of bringing in the Yule log with much ceremony and "joyous revel for both young and old" may be very charmingly adapted to the uses of a Christmas eve party. It is not ever necessary that the house possess one of the mighty fireplaces of old English days, for the log in this case is figurative rather than actual.

It is constructed of cardboard of light wood and is hollow, with a convenient door through which the gift have been put inside before the ceremony of bringing it in is commenced. There are many quaint though simple festivities that may be enacted, and they are always intensely amusing to the children.

Horses and Water.

If a horse has a thin coat or is off his feed the chances are that he is not getting water enough.

EAT A SQUARE MEAL AND NOT FEAR INDIGESTION

There are hundreds of people in Barton who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the Monitor F. D. Pierce is selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve. This remarkable dyspepsia remedy will relieve the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness, or the general played-out condition that afflicts everyone suffering with stomach trouble. Mi-o-na does not simply relieve, it aims to cure.

F. D. Pierce can tell you of many well known people in this city whom this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit. No other dyspepsia remedy has made so large a percentage of cures as Mi-o-na. It is so large that F. D. Pierce stands ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer, and there are hundreds in Barton today praising Mi-o-na because it does what it is advertised to do. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na, they eat what they want and when they want with no fear of suffering.
